

Five extremely cool things to wake up to on Christmas day

December 7, 10:15 AM
by Linda Laban, Rock 'n' Roll Examiner

Add a Comment

Previous

Next

Here are five extremely cool rock 'n' roll related goodies to wake up to on Christmas day. Excluding, that is, your latest rock crush.

Everyone and his granny has an iPod. But not every granny has an iPod docking station that doubles as a guitar amplifier. First Act's DK1000 is a unique docking station with the added option of plugging in guitars, microphones, or other musical instruments. So that instead of listening to other people making a racket, you can make your own. The DK 1000 looks cool, what with its classic Marshall look. It has a two-way speaker system with four-inch woofers and 3/4 inch tweeters and an auxiliary stereo input for gaming devices. Just like First Act's guitar amps, the DK1000 includes variable tone and switchable gain channels for different guitar tones. $99.99. The DK1000 can be purchased at First Act or on Amazon.com.

Amped up iPod!