

HappyMommy3

My journey through motherhood, living a healthier life and other random mumbo jumbo.

Little First Act Discovery Review

I love toys that my children can interact with, I love toys that make noise. Am I crazy?

Well thanks to Little First Act Discovery and Twitter Moms my son was given a new toy to try out.

We were sent the Shake N' Stack Instrument.

At first when I saw the toy I thought just the rings around the base came off and they were the instruments however after I gave the toy to Bubby to play with, he figured out how it all worked. This toy is awesome. All of the pieces are bright and colorful! The rings come off and they are just the right size for my boys hands. The middle post also comes off and is now a maraca. Bubby loved that part of the toy, he walked around most of the day just shake shake shakin' it.

Then the bottom base is a tambourine. All the pieces are just the right size for little hands. All parts of the toy serve as learning, your little one can stack, shake, grasp and jiggle their way to learning shapes and sounds. The toy helps develop hand eye coordination and fine motor skills.

The Shake N' Stack Instrument has given my son hours of fun and will bring the same enjoyment to my daughter when she gets a little older.

Thanks again Twitter Moms and Little First Act Discovery for this opportunity!